Teacher Pro-D Day at UBC
Friday October 25, 8:30 am - 3:30 pm

Engage: Teaching the history and legacy of Indian Residential Schools

The First Nations House of Learning, the Indian Residential School Survivors Society, the Morris and Helen Belkin Gallery and Museum of Anthropology are working in collaboration to host a teacher’s professional development day at UBC on October 25.

The Pro-D day will provide an opportunity for teachers to engage, reflect, and develop the tools, strategies and resources they may need to teach the history of residential schools in Canada and to move towards reconciliation.

The day includes a visit to:

- Speaking to Memory: Images and Voices from St. Michael's Indian Residential School at Museum of Anthropology
- Witnesses: Art and Canada's Indian Residential Schools at the Morris and Helen Belkin Art Gallery
- The First Nations House of Learning

for a discussion and resource sharing
&
Coffee, lunch and take away resources.

To register, please go to www.moa.ubc.ca/eventtickets

Cost $30 - pre-registration required
www.moa.ubc.ca/eventtickets

Photograph by Kris Krug.

Children at St. Michael’s Indian Residential School.
Photograph a033900, Beverly Brown fonds, MOA.